PSYCHOANALYTIC ASTROLOGY

Harness your infinite potential

Starting with your astral chart, I produce an in-depth study of your personality and its varied, while sometimes contradictory, facets. I provide you with a greater understanding of your motivation and actions and the way you interact with others.

Your chart's analysis will give you a deeper awareness of your potential, enabling you to act assertively and move forward with confidence.

Psychoanalytic Astrology focuses on unfulfilled needs and the deep wounds that each of us has, as well as the images we have of our parents. These become apparent during the study of an astrological chart. You will discover ways to overcome present day obstacles that are rooted in your past.

Objectives: My insight will help you realise your full potential. Just like an artist with a full palette of colours at his disposal, when you are armed with increased self-knowledge and perception of the world around you, you will be free to create the unique painting of your life.

An appointment?

I will study your astral chart to examine the multiple facets of your personality.

On making your appointment, you may specify a particular issue that you would like to deal with (personal, professional, etc).

Dialogue is exchanged right from the very beginning when key personality traits are identified and discussed.

Based on her study of the planetary transit, solar revolution and secondary progressions, I will discuss certain key moments of the year ahead with you. Particular attention is paid to those key moments influenced by the moon's passage through your astral charge. This helps provide a description of your present situation and future possibilities.

To allow me make an in-depth and accurate study of your astral chart, she will need accurate details of your date, time and place of birth.

Who is going to accompany you?

I have been a professional astrologer for many years, working in France, Italy, Spain, the US and the UK. She offers consultations in four languages: English, Italian, French and Spanish.

My lifelong fascination for psychology and the interpretation of symbols and myths led me to study first with the noted astrologer Jany Bessière then with the astrologer and psychoanalyst Philippe Granger, whose revolutionary methods have shaped my own personalized approach to astrology.

Code of ethics

I am member of the FDAF, the Federation of the French-speaking Astrologers, and respect its code of ethics. http://www.fdaf.org/fdaf_english_presentation.htm
